More about our Energy Advice Service

South West London Energy Advice Partnership (SWLEAP) is a partnership between Habitats & Heritage and CREW Energy working across the London Boroughs of Richmond, Wandsworth and Merton.

With rising heating costs and colder temperatures, we are offering a FREE energy advice service to people living in these boroughs and who are on benefits, disabled, elderly, looking after young children or in fuel poverty.

Our Home Energy Visits are conducted by two trained Energy Advisors who can analyse different aspects of energy efficiency in your home and give you tips to save money.

During a visit, they will install a range of energy saving items such as low energy LED lightbulbs, radiator heat reflectors and insulation materials at no cost.

We can also offer you a telephone advice session with a trained advisor. This is particularly useful if you are having problems with bills and want to apply for financial support.
